MAIL MATTERS.

The Post Office despatched to San Francisco by the tern W. S.
Mowne on Tuesday 1077 letters and 335 packages of papers. This morning the brigantine W. G. Irwin carried 788 letters and 74 packages of papers. Total 1865 letters, 409 packages of papers.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Sunday, January 27th, will be the thirtieth anniversary of the birth of Emperor William II of Germany.
The event will be observed in Honolulu on Saturday evening, the 26th, by the Honolulu Arion Society, by a grand concert at their hall, commencing at 8 o'clock. A notice in German appears elsewhere.

ACCIDENT.

By the Kinau news was received that by the accidental discharge of a loaded pistol, a bullet went through the upper part of the thigh and lodged near the knee of Dr. Wed-dick, Government physician at Lahaina. Dr. Herbert was summoned from Wailuku, but when the Kinau left Lahaina the bullet had not been extracted.

CHINESE WEDDING.

At St. Andrew's Cathedral this morning, Mr. Chung Lee, a storekeeper, on Beretania street, was united in marriage to Miss Kwai Kyau, who recently arrived from China. The ceremony was performed by the Bishop of Honolulu, assisted by the Rev. Herbert H. G.
Gowen, in the presence of quite a large number of friends of the contracting parties. Two hymns were sung in Chinese. A feast is being held this afternoon in honor of the event.

PEARL RIVER RAILROAD.

MR. EDWARDS—In reply to questions asked by subscribers to bonds, who desire to have the same converted into land after the railway is completed—in reference to choice of blocks or lots, I will say that the company to be organized in a few days will formulate and publish a plan which will doubtless be satisfactory to all. In regard to subscriptions and interest on same, 20 per cent. of the amt. subscribed will be payable to the Treasurer or such person legally authorized to receive money as soon as the company is formed, the balance to be paid in four equal payments to be made on the first of each succeeding month following the first payment. Interest will be allowed on each payment made from the date thereof at the rate of 7 per cent per annum. I beg to take this occasion to thank the public for their prompt response to my letter of the 19th inst. If subscriptions continue to come in as lively as they have thus far, we shall soon have the whole amount subscribed, and be ready to commence the work of grading early next month. Thousands of dollars paid out monthly for even a few months to the laboring class, will tend to revive business, which will surely be welcome to all.

FOUND GUILTY.

The case of George Hons, charged with keeping a disorderly house, to wit: a house in which gambling is permitted, was tried in the Police Court yesterday afternoon. The witnesses for the prosecution were Police Captain Larsen, H. Lewis, Robert Levi, W. Mohr, John T.
Fox and Kealakai. No evidence was offered for the defense, and His Honor finding the defendant guilty sentenced him to pay a fine of $100 with $6.10 costs. An appeal was noted to the Supreme Court.

KAUMAKAPILI CHURCH.

Last evening a meeting of the Trustees and congregation of the Kaumakapili Church was held for the purpose of taking into consideration the liquidation of the debt of $7,000. The property has been mortgaged to the Lunalilo estate for a loan of $6,000 to be paid back at the rate of $1,000 a year. A friend contributed $1,000 at the meeting, for which a vote of thanks was passed. The first note of $1,000 has been endorsed by Mr. P. C. Jones.
The whole of the trustees have agreed to the mortgage and the outstanding accounts will be paid immediately. The church has elected an entirely new board of trustees consisting of Hawaiians, in whom entire confidence is placed.

WAILUA SHOOTING CASE.

MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL BY DE-FENDANT'S COUNSEL.

In the Supreme Court this morning, before Mr. Justice Bickerton, in the case of J. R. Robertson found guilty in the Wailua shooting case by a jury, the following motion was made for a new trial:

And now comes the defendant, by Paul Neumann, Volney V. Ash-ford, and Gardner K. Wilder, his attorneys, and moves for a new trial in the above cause, for the following reasons:

1. On the ground that testimony was admitted from Dr. McKibbin as to his opinion of the number of shots fired: said Dr. McKibbin not being first shown to be an expert at gunning, or in resistance to gun shots, or in the cause and effect of spent shot, and the said testimony being based upon the effect of the shots upon the body of Magoney.

2. On the ground that the verdict is contrary to the evidence adduced at the trial.

3. On the ground of misdirection of the jury by the Court in instructing them that they must find defendant guilty unless it appeared from the evidence that, before shooting, he had retreated to the utmost limit of his power, until stopped by a wall or some impassable barrier: notwithstanding the evidence, even of the prosecution, shows conclusively that the shooting was done from inside defendant's own room, after retreating from the pursuit of his antagonist, who came at him with threats of "cutting his liver out," and after defendant had twice warned him, while retreating to his own room, "don't come any further or I'll shoot."

4. That aside from the principle involved in the general doctrine of self defense, there were elements in this case which made it exceptional.
The evidence shows that the defendant was defending his domicile, his home, as well as his person, and that he was in fear of his life, from his pursuer. A man's house is his castle, and if it devolved upon the Court to correctly instruct the jury, under the particular circumstances of the case, i. e. as to a man's right to defend himself from attack in his own household, which the Court failed to do.

5. On the ground of misconduct of the jury: in that certain of the jurymen, to wit, J. H. Black and I.
A. Burgett, stated on their voir dire that they had never entertained or expressed any opinion upon the matter before them or any statement hostile to the defendant therein: whereas in truth and fact they had expressed such hostile opinions, and were at the time of said trial entertaining feelings of bitter hostility to the defendant herein, and had prejudged said defendant and declared him guilty in advance of the trial: none of which said last mentioned facts were known to the defendant or his attorneys until after the trial.
This motion is made upon the affidavits of J. C. Cluney and John M.
Vivas, and also of the defendant and of his said attorneys, Paul Neumann, Volney V. Ashford, and Gardner K. Wilder, all of which are on file herein: as well as upon the records and proceedings which form a part of this cause, and such other and further facts and circumstances, herein relevant, as may be presented at the hearing of the said motion.
Dated this 22d day of January, 1889.

PAUL NEUMANN,
VOLNEY V. ASHFORD,
GARDNER K. WILDER.

The affidavits were all read by Col. Ashford.

Deputy Attorney-General Peterson read the affidavit of I. A. Burgett in which he states he had no recollection of any such conversation having taken place, and had used no such language; that he was unbiased at the time of the trial. A similar affidavit was presented on behalf of J. H. Black, but it was not signed owing to Black's absence.

Hon. Paul Neumann said that both Black and Burgett say they have no recollection of any conversation taking place as stated in the affidavits of Vivas and Cluney, and he thought they were unfit to sit as jurors. It was not the first time that jurors had taken their seats and sworn they were unbiased when they were not so. Where a man's liberty is concerned the least the Government could do under the Constitution was to give a fair trial.

Under the circumstances he thought the defendant had not had a fair trial. The law laid down in Bridge's case could not be applicable in this case. The statements of Vivas and Cluney were of themselves enough to grant a new trial. The haste with which the jury gave their verdict was almost indecent. The Court in furtherance of justice should allow a new trial so that the law could be laid reasonably applicable to this case.

Mr. Whiting for the Crown thought the affidavits of Vivas and Cluney not entirely satisfactory, and took exception to their form as being indefinite.

Mr. Neumann refuted the statement that the affidavits were not specific enough. He claimed they had not been denied.

His Honor said remarks had been made as to the haste of the jury, but the Court did not intend to decide hastily on this motion. The grounds of the motion were all overruled with the exception of the misconduct of the jury, which was a serious question, and which should be given a serious consideration.
Every man had a right to have an unbiased jury. The affidavit of Cluney must be presented to him in due form so that he could give the matter proper and fair consideration. He would endeavor to look into the case to-day and present his final decision if possible on Friday morning.

A WELCOME TO MONS. D'ANGLADE.

An excellent rendering of an excellent musical programme was given by the pupils of St. Louis College, at the College, on Tuesday evening, as a welcome to Mons. d'Anglade, the new French Commissioner. That gentleman was present, accompanied by the Bishop of Orléans, Father Leonore, and Senior Canavarro. The music was mainly by the College brass band and the College orchestra, and was exceptionally fine.
Two solos were also on the programme; one violin by Master Jas.
Lloyd, and the other flute, by Master Henry Bertelman. These were rendered in a manner to specially delight and surprise the visitors.

Mons. d'Anglade, in a brief speech to the band, orchestra, and soloists, expressed his extreme pleasure and astonishment at the very fine music with which he had been treated. He had never imagined that he would find in this little country boys so competent musicians. They would be a credit to any city in the world.
In the course of his remarks, Mons. d'Anglade stated that he himself had been educated at Stanislas College, in Paris, an institution numbering 1,500 students, conducted by Brothers of the same order as those having charge of St. Louis College, and he therefore felt special pleasure in witnessing the surprising results of the Brothers' labors in this country.

T. G. Thrum's New Circular

TO THE PUBLIC: In consenting, reluctantly, to purchase the Express of the Pacific, I am, I trust, arriving to the address of Mr. A. M.
Hewitt by the last two steamers and thus give his late subscribers an opportunity, if desired, to avoid omissions in their dates of periodicals, I did so with the best of motives to all parties concerned, and with the assumption of no responsibilities of, or for others. I can no more step in to make good any patron's prepaid subscription than I could demand another's unsettled account.
These are differences to be settled with the assignee, and it is as unreasonable to expect me to make good any such deficits as it would be to expect the Hawaiian News Co., or any dealer in any other part of the world.

I am impelled to make this statement from the fact that several parties seem to consider it my province to complete undisputed subscriptions, and a refusal on my part is sufficient ground for a charge of "collusion," "fraud," and such kindly epithets.

Where I am in a position to do so, it would give me great pleasure to do an act that would thus maintain the credit and standing of the subscription news business in these islands. The next best thing to be done is to conduct it honorably with all. This I propose to do, and with a business experience of nearly twenty years in this city, will strive to maintain the public confidence and support.

Subscription favors are assured prompt attention and at rates as reasonable as the handling of the precarious business will allow.

All orders in Stationery, Books, Music, Art materials, Fancy Goods, etc., carefully filled at lowest market rates, and special orders for monthly steamer faithfully executed. Respectfully,
